MY BEST ANGLE™ Bubble Inclinometer

ITEM #
BJ225130

- Used to measure range-of motion
- Range-of-motion can be measured from the neutral position to find a reading of flexion, extension, abduction, adduction, pronation, supination, dorsiflexion, plantarflexion, etc. or it can measure the entire range to yield a total range-of motion of the joint
- The inclinometer is simple to use: place it near the joint to be measured; turn the dial until the scale reads zero; take the joint through its range; read the range-of-motion (in degrees) directly from the dial

All of our CBD Products:

What is CBD? Cannabidiol, also known as CBD, is one of over 60+ naturally occurring cannabinoid compounds found in Cannabis, an annual herbaceous flowering plant. CBD oil is derived from an organic substance formed in the plant's secretions. Both marijuana and hemp are forms of cannabis. However, cannabis does not mean marijuana. Cannabis is the genus name and general umbrella term, under which all forms of marijuana and hemp fall. Until recently, delta-9 tetrahydrocannabinol, or THC, was the most well-known and studied cannabinoid due to its abundance in marijuana. However, as the second most prevalent cannabinoid in marijuana and the top non-psychoactive cannabinoid found in hemp, CBD has been gaining momentum in the scientific community and media. Unlike THC, CBD does not cause any feeling of "high," which contributes to its legalization across the United States. Our CBD products and extracts are derived from hemp (not marijuana), and can also be referred to as CBD-rich cannabis oil. All of our high-CBD hemp crops are grown legally in the United States and all of our products are rigorously tested for safety, quality, and cannabinoid content.

Is CBD Legal in my state? Yes, CBD is legal in all states! All of our CBD oils and extracts are made with CBD extracted from the industrial hemp plant. This type of hemp has non-detectable THC and does not alter the mind like other drugs. Our CBD complies with the 2014 United States Farm Bill and the newer 2018 United States Farm Bill.

Do I need a prescription to order CBD? No. A medical card or prescription is not needed.

Will CBD get me high? No. THC is the chemical that produces a "High". CBD has non-detectable THC at most and is filtered out leaving pure, natural CBD.

Can I overdose on CBD? No, cannabinoids have no known toxicity. While everyone's dosage is different for their desired results, many people start with a small amount and increase the dosage from there.

How does CBD work? CBD primarily interacts with the body's endocannabinoid system, a grouping of millions of cannabinoid receptors found throughout your body, but are primarily clustered in the brain and central nervous system. While CBD is a phytocannabinoid, or plant-based cannabinoid, your body also naturally produces cannabinoids, known as endocannabinoids. Almost every organ of your body, including your skin and digestive tract, contains cannabinoid receptors. The endocannabinoid system has four primary purposes including neuroprotection, stress relief, immune response, and regulating the body's general state of balance, impacting faculties such as appetite, sleep, mood, and pain. Unlike THC, CBD does not interact directly with the two classical cannabinoid receptors (CB1 and CB2). This is why CBD does not cause any psychoactive effect. Instead, CBD inhibits the enzymes that break down endocannabinoids, leading to an increase in your body's naturally-produced cannabinoids.

Are hemp extracts safe? Are there negative side effects?

Please consult with your physician before using any dietary supplement including Hemp extract supplements.

Why do people use Hemp Extracts and CBD? What are the benefits and uses of CBD? In accordance with federal regulations, we cannot make health claims regarding our dietary supplement products. We can only recommend our products for general wellness.

What kind of testing/analysis is performed on your products? Third party laboratories analyze all of our full-spectrum hemp extracts and supplements for cannabinoid potency, heavy metals, bacterial/microbial life, mycotoxins (fungus), and pesticides. Our 3rd party results are exemplary.

Why buy Blue Jay™ An Elite Healthcare Brand of CBD products?

Our products are pharmacist formulated, third party tested, non-gmo, made with organic ingredients, GMP certified and made in the USA.

- 1 oz./30ml dropper bottle
- Formulated with organically grown hemp oil as the base to increase the nutritional value of our CBD oils
- Mint flavor is light and tasty
- CBD is non-psychoactive, and is the focus of the benefits of hemp oil
- 3rd Party independently tested - what is on the label matches precisely to what is in the bottle every time
- Derived from Registered Industrial USA Hemp

- Phytocannabinoid-Rich (PCR) Hemp Oil has a True Full Spectrum of cannabinoids and terpenes and very low amounts of Delta 9 Tetrahydrocannabinol (less than 0.3% THC)
- Our distillation process produces the highest quality oil in the world by removing all impurities, including chlorophyll, lipids, waxes, and other destabilizing compounds. By using only completely distilled phytocannabinoid-rich hemp oil, our products are more pure, more stable and have a longer shelf life than oils that are non-distilled.
